

Your support continues empowering students like Christine

Christine, 22, is in her second year of college and is pursuing a degree in business administration.

Like many firstborn children in larger families, she spent her life caring for her younger siblings.

Christine's parents did their best to provide for their family, but her mom was forced to stop working when health issues arose.

With expenses growing larger than their dad's part-time income, Christine dropped out of school.

She tried her best to find a job and raise enough money for tuition for nearly two years. But after experiencing several roadblocks due to her lack of education and qualifications, she felt stuck.

However, she did not lose hope. Christine met a member of Ravens Ministries at church, who shared about the program.

This led her to apply for support from Ravens like you, later being accepted into the program.

We are excited to witness Christine flourishing in her studies. When she graduates in 2024, it's her mission to help her siblings who also dropped out of school.

Please join us in praying for her and fellow students as they achieve their dreams. Read their stories.
